COAL MINER KILLED IN BLACK DIAMOND MINE

THREE TONS OF ROCK ESTIMATED TO HAVE FALLEN ON BILL LAKATOS, LOCAL MINER; INQUEST HELD SATURDAY PROVING DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

Another accident occurred in Carbon this week and this was in the Black Diamond mine, when one miner was injured and his helper, Bill Lakatos was killed when about three tons of rock fell from the roof of the tunnel, burying the dead man, while the injured was able to pick his way clear. The accident happened about four o'clock on Friday and the dead miner was soon extricated from the mass of rock and brought to the surface. An inquest was held on Saturday afternoon and the coronor's jury pronounced death accidental.

Lakatos was a young man 35 years of age and was a Hungarian by birth. He leaves to mourn his loss a brother in Carbon and a wife and one child in the old country.

Funeral services were held from the Catholic church on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. and interment was made in the Carbon cemetery. Winter Brothers of Drumheller had charge of the funeral arrangements.

From the time of the miner's death until after the burial, the Black Diamond mine was closed in due respect to the deceased.

PRACTICES HAVE COMMENCED FOR NEW PLAY "STAR BRIGHT"

A number of the Carbon people, eleven in all, have commenced rehearsing on another play this year, the title of this being "Star Bright." The scene of this play is in Mountdale, a village in the Adirondacks. The time of playing will take two hours and thirty minutes and one can see that there is considerable work on the part of the players in getting this play up. It is planned to stage this play about the first week in December and when this time comes the support of the community will be expected.

Weddings

LIVINGSTONE - MILLER

In the presence of immediate relatives a quiet, yet very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Miller of Olds, at 4 p.m., Wednesday, October 9th, when their daughter, Kathleen, became the bride of James Gordon Livingstone, of Carbon, Alta, eldest son of Mrs. Jessie E. Livingstone, of Olds. Boyd and Lucella, brother and sister of the bride, were the attendants of honor. The bride's wedding dress was of peach taffeta, the bridesmaid's choice of attire being pink georgette, both of whom carried bouquets of roses and carnations.

The Rev. T. E. Armstrong officiated at the wedding ceremony. The young couple are well known locally and are popular, the groom having passed his boyhood days in the Innis Lake district and Olds. Following the ceremony the happy couple left for Calgary where a short honeymoon is being spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone will reside at Carbon.

The happy couple left via Edmonton for Vancouver, where they will make their home in future.

"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS" TO BE SHOWN IN CARBON ON FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Army veterans and their families and friends must not fail to see "Two Arabian Knights," which is playing at the Carbon Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week. Here is a film production on a lavish scale which makes the serious part of the war secondary, basing its plot almost exclusively on those humorous incidents that doughboys of '18 will remember so well.

The plot deals with two soldiers, a sergeant and a private, who find themselves helpless in Arabia at the close of the war, after they have escaped from a prison camp in Arab garb.

William Boyd's smile and twinkling eyes give the proper "devil-may-care" attitude to the star who plays his first comedy drama after a series of big dramatic successes. Mary Astor is beautiful as the Arab maiden and Louis Wolheim, the stage star, keeps the audience constantly amused in his part of the hard-boiled sergeant. The supporting cast is headed by Ian Keith.

THE WHEAT SITUATION AS VIEWED BY WHEAT POOL

THE PRESENT WHEAT SITUATION IS OF GREAT INTEREST TO ALL CANADA AND OF PARTICULAR INTEREST TO THE PRAIRIE PROVINCES; WHEAT POOL TAKES FIRM STAND.

The Wheat situation in Western Canada is being followed with great interest and with varied emotions by people all over the world. Wheat is the basic food of many millions of people and the chief source of income of millions more. The consumers are interested particularly in cheap bread and the producers in getting a fair return for their labor.

What arouses interest in Canada is the fact that our wheat prices have been above the world's parity and refuse to come down. This situation persists in the face of the fact that Canada is the leading wheat exporting country in the world and even although the western crop is short this year, the Dominion will still have to export possibly two hundred million bushels of wheat.

The present wheat crop in Western Canada has been estimated at from 250,000,000 bushels to 270,000,000 bushels, or about half the crop threshed in the Prairie Provinces last year. In the face of this comparatively light crop terminal storage is being over-extended while the surplus wheat is backing up into the country. Railway companies are rationing cars and lake grain carriers are taking on winter storage.

This situation has been laid at the doors of the Canadian Wheat Pool and the Wheat Pool has accepted the responsibility.

In a statement recently published, E. H. Ramsay, late general manager of the Wheat Pool's central selling agency, points out that if the Canadian crop were sold "at present price levels, having due regard to the grade of the crop, this only promises a gross farm income of $208,000,000 or an approximate reduction in the buying power of the West of $170,000,000. The value of last year's crop," Mr. Ramsay calculates, "of which 466,000,000 bushels were inspected, was very close to $470,000,000." Present price fluctuations showed cash wheat at Winnipeg on October 1 selling for $1.43½, consequently, if Canada's crop this year, on account of its quality and scarcity, is to bring the financial return anywhere near the $470,000,000 of last year, the prices now prevailing will have to go considerably higher. Every further drop involves a further reduction of the purchasing power of the west.

If the price of Canadian wheat was reduced there would be no difficulty in making sales and the blockade would be at an end, but are Canadian growers prepared to place their high quality wheat on the bargain counter? The Wheat Pool believes it poor business to do so.

The European buyers of wheat are showing concern over the Canadian situation but have been steadfastly refusing to come into the market at prevailing levels. News stories are being cabled from Britain telling of huge supplies of grain on hand, of abnormally large crops in France, and of low prices being paid British farmers for their wheat, all calculated to have a bearish effect on the Canadian market. It is significant to note, however, that Hon. J. H. Thomas estimates the wheat supply in Britain only sufficient to cover requirements for six weeks' time.

There has been criticism of the Canadian Wheat Pool's stand by various interests overseas and also in Canada. Steamship companies have been laying up some of their Great Lakes' carriers in winter quarters and some have expressed bitterness over the fact that our grain is not being exported. Railways have been hindered in their op-

Caught Disease On the HANDS!

Skin disease threatens us every day. Invisible germs of blood-poison, eczema, etc., are waiting to infect the least cut or sore place. The money you use carries germs—you get them on the handles, rails and straps of the trains and street cars, and in a score of other ways.

Solely through Zam-buk, Mr. Henry C. Davis, of South 17th Street, Kansas City, U.S.A., has just escaped a virulent type of eczema, contracted, he suspects, through use of public towels.

"I had medical advice," he says, "tried in addition all sorts of so-called eczema remedies, without finding the hoped-for relief. Zam-buk treatment soon gave positive results. It took away the painful irritation and quickly purified and healed the deep troublesome sores."

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The National Research Council has been asked to appoint an associate committee on weed control research.

The Earl of Harewood, father-in-law of Princess Mary, died at his ancestral estate, October 6. He was 83 years old.

Admiral Sir Richard Phillimore, first and principal naval aide de camp to His Majesty, has been placed on the retired list. Vice-Admiral Sir H. W. Richmond is promoted admiral.

Lady Schultz, wife of the late Sir John Christian Schultz, former Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, and Senator, died October 7, at Winnipeg.

R. B. Morley, general manager of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, Toronto, was elected Canadian representative on the executive committee of the National Safety Council at Chicago.

Canada and the other British Dominions will be represented at the proposed five-power naval disarmament conference in London, England, next January, according to present plans.

X-Ray In New Role

Is Aid To Manufacturing and Notably In Aviation

The X-ray, an instrument of physicians and surgeons, has become a tool of the foundry room, and its benefits to the metal industry have been of considerable aid to manufacturing, notably in aviation, according to the statements of W. L. Fink, metallurgist, before the National Metals Congress at Cleveland.

The shadowgraphs of the X-ray show shrinkage, blow holes, pin hole porosity and other imperfections in castings which never would be discovered by other means of examination, he asserted. As a consequence, the metal frames of airplanes can be thoroughly tested before construction of the plane is completed, a safety device that would be available in no other way.

By the same means castings generally have been improved, Fink declared.

DO NOT NEGLECT YOUR LITTLE ONES

At no time of life is delay or neglect more serious than at childhood. The little ones come quickly and unless the mother is prompt in administering treatment a precious little life may be snuffed out almost before the mother realizes the baby is ill. The prudent mother always keeps something in the medicine chest as a safeguard against the sudden illness of her little ones. Thousands of mothers have found, through experience, that there is no other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets and that is why they always keep a box of the Tablets on hand—why they always feel safe with the Tablets.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which by regulating the bowels and stomach banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and promote healthy, natural sleep. Concerning them, Mrs. Isaac Sonia, St. Eugene, Ont., writes:—"I have been using Baby's Own Tablets ever since baby was a month old and have found that they reach the spot and do more good than any other medicine I have ever tried. I always keep the Tablets in the house and would advise all other mothers to do so." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Chicago Tribune says: "The British proposals to Egypt reveal British diplomacy and Imperial statesmanship at their best, and that is the best in the world. Americans must read them with admiration mingled with envy, for when will the United States in its important and often delicate relations have the benefit of so much tact, skill, and sane judgment as Mr. Henderson's proposals display?"

USEFUL WORK A CHRISTIAN DUTY

Golden Text: "If any will not work, neither let him eat."—2 Thessalonians 3.10.

Lesson: Genesis 2.15; Exodus 20.9; Nehemiah 6.3; John 5.17; 9.4; Acts 20.33-35; 2 Thessalonians 3.6-12; Ephesians 4.28.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 8.1-9.

Explanations and Comments

God Ordained Work, Genesis 2. 15.—In the story of the Garden of Eden, we are told that God placed man there to cultivate and care for it. The work was waiting for him.

"With the Christian conception of God, we cannot believe that work has been made a human necessity merely to supply the body with food and other material things. With one creative word God could have met the material needs of all mankind and for all time." The word was not spoken, because character and intelligence were meant to be the first fruits of labor, and material things by-products. This is shown by the moral and intellectual evils which follow and degrade those who yield to absolute idleness. Civilization is at its highest in those lands where the climate is most productive to labor. Where work is declined, evil must be accepted." — Thomas Tip-lady.

Man Must Work, Exodus 20.9.—We think of the Fourth Commandment as directing the keeping of the Sabbath right, and often forget that it first of all directs us to labor on the six other days. It enforces the six days' work as well as the seventh day's rest.

"No man is born into the world whose work is not born with him. There is always work. And tools to work withal, for those who will: And blessed are the horny hands of toil." — Lowell.

The Prior Importance Of Work, Nehemiah 6.3.—Four times Nehemiah's enemies, Sanballat and Geshem, sent an urgent request to him to meet them for a conference on the Plains of Ono. That they wished to do him harm, was plain. Of course Nehemiah could not be so easily duped, but what a great answer was his: "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down: why should the work cease (as it undoubtedly would without his directing, impelling power), while I leave it and come down to you?" His answer would have been the same had the invitation been for pleasure or his own advantage in any way. He stood in the path of duty, and therefore in the very line of God's will, and he would not budge an inch. The greatness, the overwhelming importance of his work of rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem, the priority of its demands to all things else, filled his mind and heart.

New Cure For Paralysis

English Doctor Says Induced Malaria
Has Been Tried Out Successfully

Induced malaria as a successful treatment of paralysis, is revealed in a recent report of Surgeon Rear Admiral E. T. Meagher, covering experiments on a number of cases in English and Welsh hospitals.

"The treatment of general paralysis," his report states, "by induced malaria, offers more promise of success than any other form of treatment that has been given extended trial."

The treatment, which includes either artificial malaria inoculation or exposure to malarially infected mosquitoes, has been found, says Dr. Meagher, to increase the length of life, to render existence more natural, and to produce improvement in the physical condition and the mental state.

"The response in individual cases," he states, "varies from a negative result to apparent complete recovery."

A Severe Attack of Dysentery Checked by 4 Doses

Mr. I. Burtonwood, 620-22nd St. W., Saskatoon, Sask., writes:—"My child, when only seven months old, had a very severe attack of dysentery, and after three days' treatment with other things we decided to use On this day his bowels had moved twenty-three times in eleven hours, but four doses checked it. A short time ago we offered it to a neighbor whose baby was troubled, and it too was relieved within thirty hours."

An Easily Made Dessert

Caramel Pudding, one of the most delicious desserts one can serve, and one especially loved by children, can be said practically to make itself. Here it is:

Place an unopened can of Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk in a kettle of boiling water and simmer for two and a half hours, being careful not to let the kettle boil dry. Remove can, cool and chill. Remove top of can, cutting along the side of can—not the top—so that the contents may be removed whole; place on a serving dish and garnish with broken nut meats and whipped cream—or use plain unsweetened cream, with or without garnish.

An Oil Without Alcohol.—Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

The Singing Fool

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club, wins fame as a composer of popular songs. He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and makes her famous, too. Molly and Al have a baby, Junior, whom Al adores. Molly becomes interested in John Perry, Al's close friend, and one night she tells Al she has ceased to love him. Al refuses to believe it, but when Molly fails to show up for a New Year's Eve celebration at the Club Bombo, where Al is part owner, he rushes home to find she has packed up and left, taking Junior. She leaves a note suggesting that she loves John Perry and that Al need not try to persuade her to come back.

CHAPTER XVII.

"This is Mr. Stone. Is the car in?"

"No, Mr. Stone," came the answer. "Mrs. Stone took it out."

"When?"

"Tonight, about an hour ago. She said she might not be back for several days."

"Was my baby with her?"

"Yes, sir, and a gentleman."

"I see. Thank you."

Al had struggled hard to keep his voice calm. He didn't want to ask too many questions; that would excite the suspicion of the garage people and Molly's flight might get into the newspapers.

He walked to the nursery window; down below he could see the crowds in black masses still moving slowly up and down the sidewalks, welcoming the glad new year. He shook his head—no, there wasn't a chance of finding Molly tonight. He couldn't call the police because there was no definite charge he could make against her. Besides, it wouldn't be the thing to do; it would mean publicity and ghastly scandal that would involve his baby. Al thought his rage had passed now and that he was thinking clearly. He went to the doorway and heard the maid putting about in her little back room.

"Celeste?"

"Yes, sir."

"If you haven't gone to bed will you step here a moment?"

"What time did Mrs. Stone leave?"

"A little over an hour ago."

"Ah. She and Junior were alone?"

"Yes, sir."

So—John Perry had waited for her outside, thought Al.

"She didn't say how long she would be gone?"

"She just said she would be gone a long time and that everything was explained in the letter to you."

Al saw from the girl's expression that she had some idea of the purpose of Molly's hasty flight.

"Celeste, I want to ask you something. Please don't say anything to anyone about Mrs. Stone's departure."

"Yes, sir, I understand. I—I feel very sorry."

"Don't worry. And Celeste—I'll remain at the apartment for a time, at any rate. You needn't worry about your position."

"Yes, sir, thank you. Goodnight, sir."

When the maid disappeared Al entered Molly's room. He had believed himself calm when he talked to Celeste, but now he realized that he had been merely numbed by the sense of his tragedy. He was trying to plan, trying to read the future, while at the same time searing thoughts were burning him up. At one moment he raged inwardly against the heartless cruelty and contemptible deception of Molly and Perry, but the next instant he was on the verge of tears at the thought of losing Junior.

Where was he? Oh, yes, in Molly's room—the light aroma of her perfume filled the air. There was her sumptuous bed, with the high posts and costly coverlet of lace over pink satin. Here was her dressing table, with empty cosmetic jars and bottles strewn about. The drawers of the dresser were pulled out here, too, showing the same evidence of hurried packing as the nursery.

He quickly staggered out and sought the nursery again. Without thinking, he picked up Junior's woolly dog, holding it in his hand as he paced up and down. What would Molly be likely to do in her flight; where would she be likely to go? These were hopeless questions and Al knew it. She would very likely place herself in John Perry's hands and Al could not read that inscrutable mind.

Then he became aware that he was clutching at Junior's toy dog, like the proverbial drowning man grasping at the straw. It was his one link with his curly-haired boy; wherever Junior was he would sooner or later be calling for his favorite toy. He might be crying for it at this moment.

The thought brought Al to a stand-still; he sank into the nearest chair and looked around. If Molly's room spoke eloquently of her recent presence this nursery was fairly alive with the feeling of Junior. The fairy tale pictures on the wall and the tiny bright blue chairs brought up pictures, adorable memories of Al's little loved one, who had made these walls ring with his chatter and laughter. Suddenly Al turned the face of the woolly dog toward him and its shoe-button eyes stared down at him as if eternally questioning—Where was his little master? Al slumped down in his chair, breaking under the strain, his shoulders twitching convulsively as he sobbed.

But this lasted only a moment; he quickly pulled himself together and stood up. He had told Celeste he would stay on in the apartment, but he could not bear to face this empty room day after day? Yes, he must, on the slim chance that something might lead to his finding Junior, something might bring Junior back. Now he did not think of Molly, but only of Junior.

He quickly walked to the hallway for his hat, overcoat and stick. "Celeste," he called, "I'm going out. Don't be worried if I don't come back tonight."

Al was walking along the street, where the crowds had thinned out, for it was well on toward morning. Occasionally he met a band of drunken revellers, but he stalked by them with unseeing eyes, going nowhere in particular, but feeling the necessity for walking, walking.

All the time his mind worked furiously. Had Molly given up her stage job with The Merry-Go-Rounders; had she quit the show flat? He must see Marcus in the morning and find out. Marcus might have some idea of her whereabouts.

Now Al saw the dark expense of Central Park before him and, without thinking he turned in the first entrance he reached. There were the low, snow-covered hills, the bare trees whispering gently in the winter wind, the reflections of the skyscraper lights in the cold water. Here was the Japanese bridge where he had taken Junior walking only last Sunday. He stopped as if waiting for someone or something.

At that moment a dark limousine came speeding past him on the driveway. Was it Molly's car? He sprang forward.

Quickly as Al moved, the limousine was faster. It looked like a Rolls, but he couldn't be sure. And it was too dark for him to read the license plate. He stopped; there were ten thousand cars in New York that resembled Molly's. He went on, walking the streets until daylight. Then he headed for home, threw himself on his bed, fully clothed, and fell into a sleep that was tortured by nightmares.

He awoke with the sun streaming through his windows, tossed off his clothes, bathed, shaved and dressed hastily for the street. The first man to see was Marcus.

Marcus was in his office. He looked up in genuine surprise when Al walked in, pale and haggard.

"What's the matter, Al?"

"Nothing much. Has Molly quit your show?"

"Yes, didn't you know?" A shadow crossed Marcus' face. "She quit last night, just like that," Marcus snapped his fingers. "With no explanation except that she was tired and needed a rest. The press department got busy on it. Didn't you see the morning paper?"

Prisoners At Sing Sing Prison Can Listen In

In each of the 1,800 cells of the new extension at Sing Sing Prison is a radio receiving set, after the manner of the ultra-modern metropolitan hotels. The installations have even made, it was officially confirmed today, following reports by prison employees, and in the future convicts with terms of from two years to life may listen to concerts, to news of the outside world, sermons and bedtime stories.

The guests of the state of New York may listen in, but they may not tune in. They must listen to what comes over the air from the central receiving station in the prison auditorium, whether the program be to their taste or not. The privilege was extended after the new rules, curtailing motion picture theatre visits from seven nights a week to two, went into effect.

The Mutual Welfare League bears the expense of installing and maintaining the radio equipment.

Little Helps For This Week

"Make sure thy friend."—Proverbs vi. 3.

Believe me better than my best, And stronger than my strength can hold.

Until your royal faith transmutes My pebbles into gold.

—Elizabeth Stuart Phelps.

To win and hold a friend, we are compelled to keep ourselves at his ideal point, and in turn our love makes on him the same appeal. All around the circle of our best beloved, it is this idealizing that gives to love its beauty, and its pain, and its mighty leverage on character—its beauty, because that idealizing is the secret of love's glow; its pain, because that idealizing makes the constant peril of its vanishing; its leverage to uplift character, because this same idealizing is a constant challenge between every two, compelling each to be his best. "What is the secret of your life?" asked Mrs. Browning of Charles Kingsley; "Tell me, that I may make mine beautiful too." He replied, "I have a friend." —William Channing Gannett.

Little John was interested in the rafters on the sleeping porch. "What are those round things Daddy?" he asked.

"They are knot holes, Son."

"Well, if they are not holes, what are they, Daddy?"

Have Splendid Record

Ontario's Flying Firemen Not Confined To Patrol Work

In addition to organized forces of land patrols, the Ontario Government is trying to safeguard the valuable forest reserves from fire by patrols from the air. Up to the end of August, air patrols employed by the provincial government had flown 9,900 hours or 3,300 hours more than the total flying time on a similar service last year. Not only do these flying firemen do patrol work, but when a fire is detected they land at a fire protective service station, load men and fire fighting material, and take them as near as possible to the scene of the fire.

Reduce the Acid

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

THOSE FROM WHOM WE BUY

How many of us are sufficient unto ourselves? So few that, should we draw up a proper balance sheet, we would doubtless find that we had been taking unto ourselves a degree of credit which would be decidedly unjust because decidedly unearned, says the Mercury, Renfrew, Ontario.

It is very easy to say that we produced this, that or the other, when Tom, Dick and Harry combined were more important factors in the picture than we ourselves.

Not one of us is as great as we like to think we are, and especially is this demonstrated in the case of the buyer with the high and mighty attitude who attempts to dominate the situation whenever he has occasion to make a purchase. Too often he ignores the fact that the one from whom he buys things can be as important a factor in his particular business as he will permit him to be—no more—no less—and that the man who makes and sells a certain thing does or should know more about that particular thing than does the one who only buys it.

Trying to beat the other fellow at his own game is a past time seldom resulting in profit to the party of the second part, yet thousands buy chips and draw cards in the vain hope that they, without any specialized knowledge, can play "cute" enough to win constantly from the one who is equipped with a lifetime study and a highly specialized knowledge of the game in question.

Why not give the fellow from whom we buy things credit for knowing his goods? If we find he does not, then it is certain we are making a mistake in dealing with him at all, and it is time to form a new connection.

The fellow from whom we buy things just naturally drops into one of two classes—an asset or a liability to us. If he cannot help us in the thing we are trying to do then the sooner we are rid of him the better, as sooner or later we will associate with him to our sorrow. But if he is a true constructive help, why not consider him a part of our business—just as though he were on our payroll?— for he is just that.

The fact of the matter remains, we can only do business profitably, in the long run, with the one who has a whole-hearted sympathy with those problems of ours. His prices sometimes may be a little higher, but what he actually delivers, over a space of time, generally represents more to us than what we can possibly hope to get from the one who is only after the order we are about to place today.

THEY BELONG TOGETHER

(Vancouver Sun)

Liberals and Labor hope to co-operate in the coming Dominion elections.
They plan to enter two Liberal and one Labor candidates in the Vancouver ridings.

That is wise, and the sooner they get started on it the better. The main planks in the Labor program of this country are embodied in the Liberal program. The Labor school of political thought is not only like the Liberal school; it is the Liberal school.

Just as, in Great Britain, the Labor Party has become dominant through its absorption of the best Liberal thought and many of the best Liberal minds, so has the Liberal Party in Canada been dominant because it accorded in policy with the needs of Labor.

The majority in Canada is Liberal thinking, and so is the majority in Vancouver. Where they are kept apart is not on major issues, but on hair-splitting or on the choice of candidates.

The first thing to do here is to consolidate the two programs. Once that is done the right candidate will always appear whether he be Labor or Liberal. The united Liberal and Labor vote of Vancouver is sufficient to assure the election of all three candidates.

In the past it has been possible to elect a Conservative on a minority vote, while the progressive majority was divided on second and third candidates. That is unnecessary and futile. By opposing each other, Liberal and Labor actually hold back the public policies which they mutually support.

FARMERS ADVISED TO SECURE SEED OATS EARLY

One of the most serious effects of the past dry season will be a shortage of good seed oats for next year's crop in some sections of the province. Farmers in these areas are being advised by the Department of Agriculture to lose no time in securing the seed supply they will require for spring.

There will be little difficulty in supplying this demand from other parts of the province where a heavier yield of course grains was harvested, but it will be necessary to know the requirements of the drier districts at an early date. Already a considerable demand is reported from outside the province and buyers are booking orders for a large quantity of seed oats to be shipped out of Alberta before next spring.

In order that Alberta farmers may be assured of their seed supply while grain of a good quality is available, they are advised to communicate at once with their local elevator agents so that arrangements can be made for any necessary shipments before seeding time.

HERE'S ONE ON BEN

Ben Huckell, of the Innisfail Province, the new president of the Alberta section of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association is authority for the following directions for the guidance of "cub" reporters. Never state a fact you are not certain about or you may get into libel suits. In such cases use the words "alleged," "reputed," "claimed," "rumored" and so on.
The reporter was much impressed with the proper use of these instructions and in writing up a social event said:
"It is rumored that a card party was given yesterday by a number of reputed ladies. Mrs. Robinson, gossip says, was hostess. It is alleged that the guests, with the exception of Mrs.
Brown, who says she hails from Bakersfield, were all from here. Mrs. Robinson claims to be the wife of Archibald Robinson, the so-called "Honest Man" trading on Front Street."

When the editor read the report a porter, was projected through a window and struck the sidewalk with a dull thud.—Strathmore Standard.

THE WHEAT SITUATION

erations and possibly have not been pleased over the situation. But in spite of criticism the Wheat Pool is maintaining its position that Canadian farmers cannot afford to take lower prices for their wheat.

There are some who point to Western Canada wheat growers as a gang of profiteers, eager to raise the price of bread to the poor workingmen in Europe. Others point to the Pool as being instrumental in disorganizing the shipping and transportation interests and in having workmen put on the unemployed list. These accusations are unfair. Farmers in Western Canada badly need a fair price for their wheat this fall or otherwise there will be hard times. In Western Canada in most districts the crop has been extraordinary light and even at present prices there is little profit in wheat raising. In many sections of Western Canada there is dire want in farm homes because of frosted grain last year and drouth this year. No one can find fault with these people for desiring to obtain a price for their grain which is not at all exorbitant. Furthermore it should be remembered that the same buyers in Europe who are so eager to obtain cheap wheat now, steadfastly refused to buy last spring when good Canadian wheat could have been purchased at a price not much above $1.00 a bushel.

The Western Canadian farmer raises wheat under great difficulties. The ravages of the climate, frost, hail and drouth, take a tremendous toll of his labor annually. He is the only farmer in the world who grows wheat such a long distance from tidewater and places his dependence to such an extent on the export trade. He has to buy everything he requires in a protected market and sell in the world market. He enters into competition with grain grown under peonage systems and on low-priced land. He is not a heartless profiteer; he seeks a fair reward for his labor. He works hard, uses his capital to produce a greater volume per acre and uses his experience and intelligence with which to create a great marketing agency—The Canadian Wheat Pool. He is deserving of credit rather than blame.

The world wheat situation has been made fairly plain. The forecast made by the United States department of agriculture indicates a serious depression in the amount of wheat produced in the world this year as compared to last year. Exclusive of Russia and China, the estimated world production is 3,400,000,000 bushels for the present season or half a billion bushels below the record production of 1928. Part of this reduction is made up by an increase in the world's carryover of 135,000,000 bushels, but demand has been increasing at the rate of 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 bushels annually so that there is a decrease of about 400,000,000 bushels in supply in relation to demand in the last crop year. Then it should not be overlooked that Western Canada is going into the winter after one of the driest autumns on record. This means that the seed bed next spring will lack very necessary moisture and that unusually heavy and frequent rains will be required during the growing season to produce a normal crop. The United States winter wheat crop has been above the average the past three years and the law of average would indicate that this might not occur this coming winter. Taking everything into consideration it is manifest that there will be a shortage of wheat and that there is no reason for the Canadian wheat to decline to the levels fixed by the unbusinesslike marketing systems of other exporting countries. Since July enormous quantities of low-priced wheat have been exported to Europe by the Argentine. Live-pool buyers have not found it necessary to buy Canadian wheat at around $1.59 when they could buy Argentine wheat at $1.12.

One of the arguments put up against the Wheat Pool since its organization was that supply and demand govern prices. The Pool has admitted this statement to be true in a broad sense, but there are governing features of vital importance. If the Canadian wheat market had been left to the mercy of the law of supply and demand this fall most of our wheat

What Is Education?

Educational policies and educational methods are today the subject of world-wide investigation, study and discussion, and particularly so in all English-speaking countries. Perhaps in no previous period has the subject of education received more attention from the masses of the people. To a greater extent than ever before parents are showing a real interest and deep concern. They are in a questioning and questing mood, anxious to know whether accepted policies, systems and methods are productive of the best results.

It is also true that our schools and higher institutions of learning are costing more, and that the bills which have to be met by the taxpayers in order to provide and maintain their school systems are mounting year by year, and already constitute a large percentage of the annual tax levy. The vast majority of taxpayers do not object to this if, and this is the vital matter,—they are obtaining decidedly better results in the education of the younger generation, and all that they have a right to expect from such increased expenditures.

The higher standard of living now so universal, as contrasted with thirty, forty, fifty years ago, has the effect of enabling parents to give their children high school and university training to an extent hitherto unknown. Tens of thousands of children now proceed to high school, colleges, and colleges who not so long ago would have completed their academic training when they finished with public school. And the demand is for still greater facilities for secondary education, especially for those resident in rural areas and the smaller hamlets and villages scattered all over the land.

The question arises in the minds of many: Are all these young people being truly educated? Are the thousands of young men and women actually gathering from our universities with the right to add B.A., M.A., and other letters after their names educated in the truest and highest acceptance of the word? Or are they merely equipped with certain tools which many of them do not know how to use for their own advancement and the welfare of the human family?

Dr. George A. Coe, veteran educationist of Northwestern University, and recently retired from Teachers College, is convinced that a good education is education for good living. "What an absurdity it would be to certify as well-educated a youth who has never been socially awakened,—well-educated, yet negligible as far as social well-being and social progress are concerned," Dr. Coe presents "ten points" by which a truly educated man can be detected, which are worthy of consideration:

1. An educated man is one who is trained to use the tools of human intercourse with readiness, precision, and accuracy. We mean, especially, language and the rudiments of number.
2. An educated man must be able to study and to think without guidance from others. He must be to some extent—a thinker, not a mere imitator.
3. An educated man must have sufficient knowledge of nature to understand the main processes upon which human life and happiness depend.
4. An educated man knows enough of history to enable him to understand the main achievements of man.
5. An educated man is acquainted with the major resources for intellectual and esthetic enjoyment. He knows nature, literature, music, and the other arts sufficiently to choose superior to inferior enjoyments.
6. An educated man is marked by his interests as well as by his trained abilities. His attention is habitually attracted by significant rather than trivial objects, events, pursuits, and enjoyments.
7. An educated man must have not only this general culture, but also training for a specific occupation. Focalized activity that is directed toward some sort of efficiency has to be included.
8. An educated man must have toward his fellows the habitual attitudes that are commonly called ethical,—such attitudes as honor and honesty, helpfulness and good-will and co-operation.
9. An educated man must have loyalties to at least some of the important organizations and institutions of society, such as one's family, one's country, one's church.
10. If there is an inclusive meaning in life, the sort of education that I have been outlining should include some apprehension of, and feeling for, the divine; the ideally educated man will reverence God, and know how to worship.

WAS ALWAYS AILING NEVER FELT WELL

Health Restored Through the Use Of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"I am one of the many who have found new health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. Everitt Dowse, South Nelson, N.E. "For some years I never felt well, and at times was so weak that I would be confined to bed. At the very best I was in an ailing condition and found it difficult at all times to do my housework. I was subject to headaches, poor appetite, breathless at the least exertion, and very pale. Before Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me I had tried several medicines and felt that I would always be an invalid. A friend strongly urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and finally I consented to do so, but without much hope that they would help, where other medicines had failed. But in this, to my joy, I was mistaken. I had not been taking the pills very long when I knew they were helping me. As I continued their use I found my appetite improving, I slept better at night, and my strength was gradually returning. I continued taking the pills for several months, when I again found myself a well woman, and I believe that had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I would today be a helpless invalid. The pills have since been taken by others in our family, with the same beneficial results. I strongly urge every weak woman to try this grand health-building medicine."

If you will send your name and address to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., a little book, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed you postpaid.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Real English Pantomime

Colossal British Production, "Humpty Dumpty," Coming Soon

Old Country folk who have long craved to see a real English pantomime, and Canadians who have heard so much of these sumptuous musical entertainments from friends will welcome the news that at last a British producer, Mr. Philip Rodway, has had the courage to send us one of these colossal productions in "Humpty Dumpty," which will be seen at the Grand Theatre, Regina, for three nights and Wednesday matinee, commencing October 21st.

When "Humpty Dumpty" was presented in Toronto, it was an instantaneous hit which is proven by the following from the Toronto Daily Telegram.

"This season's triumphant march of the British theatre into the hearts of Canadians made notable progress last night when a large audience at the Princess Theatre acclaimed Philip Rodway's presentation of the Birmingham Pantomime Company in the musical pantomime extravaganza, "Humpty Dumpty." A story drawn from fairyland it is, but one that appeals to young and old—a message of good cheer and optimism, with new faces and new songs, diverting, wholesome, fascinating.

"Wee Georgie Wood, of course, is the outstanding star. The diminutive player is a gifted actor exuding personal magnetism, with that rare ability to change a crowded scene from merriment to pathos merely by altering the expression of his face or the tone of his voice. He can build up mass interest in some conceit or other till it soars high, and then crash it down in a heap with a lightning-like flash of irresistible wit. His smile is impish in its compelling good humor. Then, in an instant, he adopts a mask of sadness, and the composite face of all the little boys ever lost in snowstorms tears at the heart-strings of the audience. His part is that of "Humpty Dumpty," a nondescript lad out of a broken egg. Few who see it will forget his classic imitation of a boy in the process of being washed at bedtime by his mother. Later as a Scotch laddie with a dog, his antics are inimitable and his Highland accent, by the way, worthy of Lauder himself. Furthermore, Al. Johnson never knew as well as "Wee Georgie" how to talk to an audience in intimate fashion. It is some feat to get a Toronto theatre singing unaccompanied songs. To Exchange Ambassadors

Great Britain Has Entered Into Agreement With Russia

Great Britain and Russia have agreed to an exchange of ambassadors, thus paving the way for full resumption of trade and commercial relations between the two countries. The agreement, which is subject to parliamentary approval in England, was reached in a secret meeting at Lewes, England, between Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary of Great Britain, and Russian ambassador, Valerian Dolovalesky, who came from his Paris post.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bismarck Magnesia and take a little in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk), is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

MACDONALD VISIT WILL RESULT IN LASTING BENEFIT

Washington.—"We do hope and believe that the steps we have taken will be warmly welcomed by the people whom we represent, as a substantial contribution to the efforts universally made by all nations to gain security for peace—not by military organization—but by peaceful means, forced by the people and enforced by a sense of justice in the civilized world."

These are the concluding words of a joint statement issued by the prime minister of Great Britain and the president of the United States.

The statement declared the governments of Great Britain and the United States accepted the peace pact of Paris as not only a declaration of good intentions, but a positive obligation to direct national policy in accordance with the pledge to renounce war as an instrument of national policy. As a result of this attitude, historic problems might be approached from a new angle, for conflicts between military forces could not take place.

The prime minister and president therefore agreed those questions should become the subject of active consideration, and conversations between the two governments and begin in the same method as was pursued in the naval disarmament discussion of this summer.

The statement asserted the naval conversations had brought the governments so close together that obstacles in previous conferences arising out of Anglo-American disagreements, now seem substantially removed. But agreement could not be completed without the co-operation of the other naval powers. Both the prime minister and the president felt confident such mutual understandings would be reported as would make an agreement next January possible.

"In view of the security offered by the peace pact, we have been able to end, we trust forever, all competitive building between ourselves, with the risk of war and waste of public money involved, by agreeing to parity of fleets, category by category," the statement said.

Conversations of the most private and free nature between J. Ramsay MacDonald and Herbert Hoover, extending over a period of five days, ended with the issuance of the statement, and after having inaugurated what may become the custom of word of mouth communication between the heads of the British and American peoples.

Incidentally Mr. MacDonald has gained for himself a great personal triumph in Washington and throughout the United States, to which triumph his daughter, Isabel, has contributed not a little.

The profound, the immense, value, which no observer here doubts attaches to the unprecedented conference of the prime minister with the president, is suggested in the final sentence of the joint statement: "We hope and believe that the steps we have taken will be warmly welcomed by the people whom we represent," and the more tangible substance of that value seems to lie in the announcement that in the new atmosphere created by the peace pact, discussions of historic problems between the two nations will be begun.

Throughout the visit of the prime minister to Washington he has continually laid emphasis upon the Paris pact, referring to it in his senate address as a "monument in history."

It is now proposed in the circumstances of war being declared "unthinkable" and the assumption that war is banished, to go forward toward the solution of problems "involving important technical matters requiring detailed study," thus making the pact not only a promise, but at the same time a background and motive force in international politics.

Defends Bishop Lloyd

Saskatchewan Premier Commends Work Of Anglican Clergy

Saskatoon.—A defence of the immigration work of Bishop G. Ekton Lloyd, plans for more educational facilities in the province, the establishing of an office in England to encourage a greater influx of British immigrants, and an attack on Peter Veregin, Doukhobor leader, featured an address by Premier J. T. M. Anderson to visiting clergy, graduates and students of Emmanuel College here. The occasion was part of the third day's program of the Anglican College's jubilee.

During his luncheon address Dr. Anderson lauded the important and valuable work of the clergy in the progress and welfare of the province, especially during the pioneering days of the West.

The Premier was introduced by Bishop Lloyd who welcomed him as a churchman, Premier and "straight man." He spoke principally on the educational problems confronting the government of the province at the present time and pointed to the great work yet to be done in the La Crosse and Cumberland areas particularly. He said it was possible schools would be established there in the near future.

Grain Board Assistants

Appointments Announced Of Three Representatives For Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta

Ottawa.—The three assistant grain commissioners appointed under the amended provisions of the Canadian Grain Act were announced this afternoon by Hon. James Macdonald, Minister of Trade and Commerce, as follows:

Manitoba—Professor T. J. Harrison, Manitoba Agricultural College.

Saskatchewan—Hon. R. S. Dundas, of Pelly, Sask.

Alberta—W. H. Blatchford, Calgary. The above appointments were made by the cabinet on the recommendation of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

The appointments are in pursuance of amendments made to the Canada Grain Act at the last session of Parliament following an extensive investigation by the standing committee on agriculture and colonization.

The commissioners of the board appointed some time ago consist of E. B. Ramsay (chief commissioner), Hon. C. M. Hamilton and Dr. D. A. MacGibbon.

Large Increase In Federal Income Tax

Yukon Only District Not Ahead Of Last Year

Montreal.—Collections of the Federal Income Tax for the six months ended September 30 last, totalled $63,020,630, an increase of about 20 per cent. over the same period last year when collections were $52,972,358, says a special despatch from Ottawa, published in the Montreal Gazette. Figures were made public by Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue. All collections districts in the Dominion with the exception of Yukon showed an increase.

Afghan Minister Expelled

'Plane Was Wrecked In Forced Landing

Missionary and Family With Pilot Narrowly Escape Death

Prince Albert.—Missing for three days in the north country, the aeroplane carrying Pilot Alva Malone, a missionary, and his family, was discovered a mass of wreckage near Lac la Ronge, Sask. It was disclosed that the machine was damaged beyond repair, when a forced landing was followed by a crash and the passengers narrowly missed death.

Pilot Malone reached Lac la Ronge after walking from the scene of the mishap. The missionary, Rev. W. N. Fisher, en route with his wife and two children to take over the Anglican mission at Lac la Ronge, decided to continue their journey by canoe.

Making Tour Through West

Premier King Plans To Speak Twice In Each Province

Ottawa, Ont.—Premier King visits Western Canada this autumn. He will traverse both the northern and southern routes across the prairies and British Columbia, going westward to Prince Rupert, down to Vancouver and Victoria, and returning through the southern routes. He expects to make two speeches in each province.

Mr. King will be accompanied on the tour by Senator Andrew Haydon. Colonel The Hon. J. A. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, who will be in the west at the same time, will join the Prime Minister at several points where public appearances are to be made.

Service Will Start On December First

Prairies To Have Air Mail Within Six Weeks

Ottawa.—The extension of the air mail service on the prairie beginning December 1 is a step toward a national service. Mail trains will carry the heavy mail while first class mail will be carried by planes.

Beacons will be installed at Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary and Banff next month. When service is in full operation eighteen hours will be cut in time from Vancouver to Montreal, and twenty-four hours from Montreal to Vancouver. The disparity in time of the eastern and western service will be due to train connection required in the picking up of the mail. Air mail service down the McKenzie River will start about October 27, and will be twice a week from Edmonton as far north as Akavik.

With the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence, the winter air service on the north shore of the St. Lawrence will begin. Another service to start with the close of navigation is from Leamington to Pile Island.

No Invitation Received

Canada Not Formally Asked To Attend Naval Conference

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada has received no formal invitation to attend the five-power naval disarmament conference in London, next January, Premier King states. Preliminary correspondence on the subject showed that the dominions would be welcome to participate directly in the parley, but there had been no definite invitation. The premier said he would consider the question of Canada's representation when a definite invitation is received. Asked if he would go himself, he replied that he thought that would be unlikely. It was too near the opening of the Dominion Parliament, he pointed out.

Canadian Drowned In South

Vancouver Men Lose Lives At Long Beach, California

Long Beach, Calif.—Two men, visitors here from Vancouver, B.C., were drowned in a rough sea running off the beach. They were Chester Palmer, railroad engineer, and A. McPhee, a Canadian Government locomotive inspector.

Identification was made by Joseph McCracker, Los Angeles, who accompanied them to the beach.

Palmer and McPhee were swept beyond their depth by an exceptionally large wave. Their bodies were recovered within a few minutes, but efforts to revive them failed.

World's Largest Bronze Propeller

All in one piece—four blades and boss—the propeller shown above in the process of manufacture is the world's largest bronze propeller. It has just been made in the Charlton Works of J. Stone & Co., Ltd., for the new Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Japan," which will take up service between Canada and the Orient next July.

More than 35 tons of special bronze was used in casting this "wheel," which is over 20 ft. in diameter. There are two of these on the new 25,000-ton vessel. They will absorb 15,000 shaft horse power each and will drive the liner at a speed of 21 knots.

A strange feature of their manufacture is that the bronze is poured into the molds from below, thus ensuring perfect metal in all parts. After the casting has cooled and the molds have been removed the enormous screw is turned on a lathe and then planed in a special machine that keeps its pitch accurate.

The "Empress of Japan" for which this propeller was made will be 662 feet long, will have a breadth of 83½ feet and all of this will be sent through the water at a speed of 21 knots by two propellers weighing 20 tons apiece.

LITTLE DEMAND FOR WHEAT FOR SOME TIME YET

Winnipeg.—At least six weeks must elapse before there is increased demand from European buyers for North American wheat according to a report issued by E. A. Ursell, statistician to the Board of Grain Commissioners, Fort William.

An optimistic note concerning the present serious grain storage situation at head of the lakes ports, however, is contained in Mr. Ursell's statement, received here from Fort William. He points to the increasing movement down the lakes, and forecasts that shipments from prairie points can be handled at lake head ports without more serious congestion, provided the present movement is continued. He also points to the additional storage capacity provided at Georgian Bay ports this fall.

Toronto.—No immediate solution was seen of the present grain congestion situation by Sir Henry Thornton, president and chairman of the Canadian National Railways, he said, in an interview here.

"I know that it will cause a very substantial reduction in our net earnings, and this is upsetting after our starting off with such bright hopes of a banner year," Sir Henry said.

"There must be a compromise of some kind soon," he said, "one side is bound to crack."

"I hope the farmers get plenty for their wheat," he said, "but I hope something happens soon to relieve this situation."

Doukhobors Flocking To New Settlement

Radicals Joining Sons Of Freedom At Porto Rico, B.C.

Victoria.—Information reaching Victoria is to the effect that radical Doukhobors are drifting into British Columbia from Saskatchewan and the United States, and have swelled the Sons of Freedom at Porto Rico, some 18 miles from Nelson, from 150 to 400 persons. Premier S. F. Tolmie said he was seeking the co-operation of the Federal Government in restraining this movement.

At the same time, Premier Tolmie received a telegram from Independent Doukhobors of Thrums and Castlegar, who declared that their brethren at Porto Rico were exiled, short of food and facing serious privation. To them the premier replied that the Sons of Freedom at Porto Rico were in no sense exiled, that they would return to their former homes or work so long as they obeyed the laws of the country.

"They are not under any restrictions which do not apply to all citizens of the province," he said. "If unusual cases of privation exist we are prepared to relieve them, but we do not propose to countenance any violation of the laws of this country," the premier stated.

Sea Monster Reappears

Has Been Seen Again In Cowichan Lake, B.C.

Cowichan Lake, B.C.—Appearance of a "great headless monster" in the placid waters of Cowichan Lake recently has been reported here and the story is received with mingled terror and curiosity. Several search parties have been sent out to verify the original chronicle brought in by James Thomas, of Riverside, who claims that he saw the creature while cruising in his powerboat.

Several months ago a visiting doctor reported having seen a sea serpent in Cowichan Lake and was jeered. The creature reported by the doctor has evidently reappeared.

B.C. Pioneer Dead

New Westminster, B.C.—Charles George Major, 89, resident of British Columbia for 70 years, and a pioneer link with the Cariboo gold rush days, died at his home here. Mr. Major drove the first stage coach over the Cariboo highway during the hectic days of the gold rush. Later he became official administrator for the county of New Westminster.

WORLD'S FAMOUS THREE FUEL HART PARR

In special tests conducted by nationally known engineers who used cheap distillate fuel the great Hart Parr 18-36 registered a draw bar pull of 5,325 pounds at 2 miles per hour and 4,075 pounds at 3 miles per hour. On the belt it easily pulled the amazing load of 43 horse power. The Hart Parr is a three fuel tractor and will burn gasoline, kerosine or distillate equally well. It is the one tractor that develops its power from the cheapest low grade fuel. Hart Parris are made for small, medium or large farms and have three forward speeds to speed up hauling and field work. Drive yourself and experience the thrill of controlling tremendous power.

DON'T MISS ITTHE WHEAT SITUATION

would be sold before the end of the year at greatly reduced prices and most of the producers would wake up to the fact that their wheat was worth more only after it was out of their hands.

The Wheat Pool action is receiving the endorsement of most of the people of Canada. The Winnipeg Free Press, which has always maintained a position of strict neutrality as regards the Wheat Pool and the Grain Trade, came out last Friday and openly commended the Wheat Pool's determined stand in a two-column editorial.

The prosperity of Canada is dependent on the prosperity of Western Canadian farms to a far greater extent than the casual observer can discern. The position of the farmers on the prairies this year is not altogether an enviable one. You read lots of newspaper stories of individual large yields, but what about the small yields? The estimated average wheat yield for Alberta this year is from 10 to 12 bushels an acre so for every 30 bushels an acre yield there must be many a crop yielding far less than 10 bushels to the acre. With an average yield of 10 or 12 bushels an acre a fair price is a necessity if actual want is to be avoided.

No one should delude himself that Western Canadian farmers are rolling in wealth. Figures recently compiled show that in a survey conducted on 12,000 representative United States farms the average investment in land was $15,416. In the 12 months of 1928 the average profit was $1,334. Deducting six per cent interest on the investment shows the farmer a net profit of $434 for a year of labor. If a similar survey were to be made in Canada it is safe to predict that returns would not average much higher. The wheat producer of the Canadian prairies is not a "profiteer" and in fact he ranks among the lowest paid of all workers.

NEWS OF ALBERTA

In order to promote more interest in Hockey the Gleichen town people held a rally and banquet last week.

The inter-school track meet held at Didsbury last week was a huge success.

Work has already commenced on the ground work for the new rink, which is to be built at Olds this year at a cost of $10,000.

Chief Duncan of the Drumheller police force has intimated that he has been offered $100 a month if he will permit certain gambling joints to operate unmolested in that town. The chief apparently hasn't got his eye on this extra salary and prefers to do his duty.

Hon. O. L. McPherson and A. B. Claypool addressed the quarterly meeting and banquet of the Three Hills Board of Trade last week.

Peter Haydamak, a resident of Wayne, had a narrow escape last week when his new Essex coach stalled on the railway track. Haydamak saw the oncoming train and escaped just before the engine crashed into his car and carried the remains 200 feet before the train could be stopped.

RED CROSS ON THE AIR

Through the courtesy of the Edmonton Journal, the Red Cross Society is again offering its fall and winter program, entitled "The Friendly Hour" on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, over C.J.C.A. The program is under the direction of Mrs. M. H. The program consists of one hour on health education and entertainment. It covers a wide field in its subject matter, the presentation of which is attractive and interesting. The romance of the history of medicine, the wonderful story of the fight against ignorance and superstition and the marvellous modern achievements in sanitation and hygiene, will provide many a fine feature of this program.
